

Students, what did you think of Ben Stein's lecture?

Anyone? Anyone?

Ben Stein was a fantastic speaker – a perfect mix of humor, politics and economics to make for a great lecture. –Kyle Bubb

The Ben Stein lecture was extremely entertaining. He has a very interesting life, which is what most of the lecture was focused on. I thought an economic analyst would have more to say about the economy.

–Johan Frafjord

Mr. Stein was very down to earth. He even stopped to say hello to me and several of my friends in the hall after the lecture, which seemed surprising because Mr. Stein is so famous, and fame tends to make people a little conceited.

–Samantha McCarville

In going to the Ben Stein lecture I was not sure what to expect. At the end I was blown away. It was one of the best speakers that Morningside has brought to campus.

–Elliott Brand

BEN STEIN WAS A WONDERFULLY FUNNY & INTELLIGENT GUEST.

–Sean Delperdang

Ben Stein is a very natural humorist.

–Holly Beenken

Someone in the audience asked him about his views of overseas production. "If I could, I would say, 'Stop!'" he answered. Well, I don't think anybody could stop this economic tendency. Yes, China and some developing countries are developing very fast. But I would say that people in some developing countries are really working very hard in order to have better lives.

–Jenny Wang

Ben Stein is a very interesting man who has accomplished a lot in his lifetime, and I feel honored to have had the chance to listen to him speak.

–Liz Pyburn

A FEW PEOPLE ASKED MR. STEIN ABOUT HEALTH CARE. "KEEP IT SIMPLE," HE SAID. I LIKED THAT IDEA BECAUSE OBAMA SEEMS TO BE HAVING TROUBLE SETTling HEALTH CARE, SO "STAY SIMPLE" IS GOOD ADVICE FOR HIM.

–Chigusa Yoshihara

We had such a great opportunity to hear Ben Stein speak. He had a lot of great input on things. And by adding humor, he really made the topic more interesting.

–Kate Nelson

He used a very sarcastic tone, which I found funny, but I could tell that behind it was a very opinionated conservative way of thinking. I would have to say that I didn't see eye to eye with him on a few topics.

–Shannon Schroeder

The lecture was very funny and entertaining, but was full of good lessons and advice.

–Cory Gaston
